

Supplementary data 1

List of 25 WWF Terrestrial Ecoregions used to define ‘Amazonia’.

Beni savanna (125,589 km<sup>2</sup>), Caqueta moist forests (183,358 km<sup>2</sup>), Guianan Highlands moist forests (145,961 km<sup>2</sup>), Guianan moist forests (476,151 km<sup>2</sup>), Guianan piedmont and lowland moist forests (229,835 km<sup>2</sup>), Guianan savanna (104,496 km<sup>2</sup>), Gurupa varzeá (9,881 km<sup>2</sup>), Iquitos varzeá (11,4507 km<sup>2</sup>), Japurá-Solimoes-Negro moist forests (268,444 km<sup>2</sup>), Juruá-Purus moist forests (241,493 km<sup>2</sup>), Madeira-Tapajós moist forests (716,682 km<sup>2</sup>), Tocantins-Pindare moist forests (335099 km<sup>2</sup>), Marajó varzeá (88,304 km<sup>2</sup>), Monte Alegre varzeá (66,506 km<sup>2</sup>), Napo moist forests (250,592 km<sup>2</sup>), Negro-Branco moist forests (200,932 km<sup>2</sup>), Purus-Madeira moist forests (173,261 km<sup>2</sup>), Purus varzeá (176,761 km<sup>2</sup>), Rio Negro campinarana (95,986 km<sup>2</sup>), Solimões-Japurá moist forests (166,932 km<sup>2</sup>), Southwest Amazon moist forests (746,655 km<sup>2</sup>), Tapajós-Xingu moist forests (335,099 km<sup>2</sup>) Uatumá-Trombetas moist forests (470,047 km<sup>2</sup>) Ucayali moist forests (114,443 km<sup>2</sup>), Xingu-Tocantins-Araguaia moist forests (265,071 km<sup>2</sup>).

Shape files were obtained from: <http://www.worldwildlife.org/publications/terrestrial-ecoregions-of-the-world> (accessed 23 October 2016), and processed with ESRI ArcGIS 10.2.